

PRESENTATION

After more than twenty years, the traditional French School of Coaches has experienced a mutation on its previous edition by becoming the International Coach Symposium. This new formula, organized during the 2017 World Championship, has enabled the implementation of training content and exchanges on high-level Handball and modern handball oriented to new methods and practices.

Strong of this evolution, the FFHandball continues its opening work on the international by organizing the first edition of the Education International Handball (EIH) with the aim of creating a perennial event, a permanent thinking university of World Handball.

This event, which will take place from 13 to 16 December 2018 in the new Handball House in Créteil, has the particularity of addressing coaches (including the circumstances of Recycling federal diplomas) but also referees and national leaders and with different adapted training packages that can be supported by the OPCA Uniformation (for French residents).

Conferences, training sessions, round tables, workshops and testimonials around the themes "innovation", "show" and "performance" will be on the agenda of these 4 days, with the participation of French and international speakers, who contributed to the development Handball today.

On the sidelines of the EIH, will take place the European Championship EHF Euro 2018 women, the possibility for all participants to attend the semi-finals of December 14 and the final of December 16 at AccorHotels Arena.
